

Melbourne School of Health Sciences

Department of Social Work

Social Work @ Melbourne 75th Anniversary Events

Professor Jill Manthorpe

Working with carers: Global challenges and local solutions in dementia care.

Professor Manthorpe has a long-standing interest in gerontology and has been advisor to the World Health Organisation, and health executives internationally. She is currently leading studies relating to homelessness and dementia, Adult Serious Case Reviews, and safeguarding outcomes. She has published on agency working and safeguarding, dementia and care management, carers' services, financial abuse of people with dementia, and what makes people happy working in care homes. She has been Trustee of a number of national and local voluntary groups including Action on Elder Abuse; Age Concern East Riding, and currently the Centre for Policy on Ageing. She is Emeritus Senior Investigator of the NIHR. For the past ten years she has been the Director of a UK Department of Health's Policy Research Unit.

Wednesday 18 November 2015

Refreshments at 5.30pm followed by the lecture at 6pm - 7pm

Theatre 2, Level 1 Alan Gilbert Building
161 Barry Street
The University of Melbourne
Parkville, VIC, 3010

Admission is free
Bookings are required

For more information and bookings visit:

<http://healthsciences.unimelb.edu.au/news/items/jill-manthorpe>

Master Class in Supervision

Supervision - ambiguity and austerity.

In this seminar, Prof Jill Manthorpe will discuss supervision in social work and social care using UK perspectives about positive perceptions of supervision and difficulties in giving and receiving supervision in its ideal state. While social work supervision forms the core of the discussion, the UK experiences necessitate an understanding of the role of supervision in inter-professional work and other opportunities to achieve some of the espoused outcomes of supervision, such as Communities of Practice. In the UK the role of supervision when working with adults is far less understood than that of children's social work, and its purposes, roles and functions may be differently articulated. Finally the question of cost-effectiveness of supervision may assume new relevance during the age of austerity in the UK and the seminar will debate ways of considering and allocating costs.

Friday 20 November 2015

9am - 11am

(please arrive by 8.30am)

Theatre 2, Level 1 Alan Gilbert Building
161 Barry Street
The University of Melbourne
Parkville, VIC, 3010

A fee of $10 will be charged.
Bookings are required